CREATING A COMMUNITY OF COMPASSION

Many hurting men and women are looking for a safe place to turn, to help them heal from their loss. Every month thousands of visitors learn that they are not alone and engage in anonymous healing activities on Life Perspectives' specialized websites. Additionally, Life Perspectives is creating a community of compassion through grief and loss training for leaders and healthcare professionals. We have now trained over 2,500 people, providing them with essential knowledge and equipping them with practical tools and resources.

Although we have positively touched so many lives, there are still so many people who need our support and we have much more to achieve.
